S. T. C. HAS ATTRACTIONS

College Now Has Thirty-Two Students Whose Homes Are Outside of the District, Twenty-Three Being From Other States.

Did you know that Maryville S. T. C. has thirty-two out-of-state and out-of-district students in her ranks? Of the out-of-state students, sixteen are from Iowa, two from Oklahoma, one from Nebraska, one from Oregon and one from Montana. These students have consented to state for publication in the Green and White Courier, their reasons for attending S. T. C.

Paul McKenzie of Shenandoah, Iowa, stated that he came to Maryville because of the location of the school, the nearness to his home, because of the high standing of the school and its continual growth, because it was a state school, because it was possible for him to complete a two years' pre-medical course here and because the school was favorably recommended to him by a student of the college.

Grace White, whose home is at Creston, Iowa, was asked by a reporter why she came to Missouri to attend the college. Her answer was, "I wanted to attend a college that had a well balanced curriculum and an enthusiastic student body. A friend of mine, who is a former S. T. C. student, gave me conclusive proof that this college fulfilled these requisites."

W. G. Hannum of Warren, Missouri, came to Maryville because he was personally acquainted with President Lamkin and knew him to be a school man of rare ability. He had also heard many good reports of the school itself.

Hazel Hiatt of Fort Benton, Montana was attending the college at Dillon, Montana, when her father moved to Missouri. She asked Dr. Sheldon E. Davis, formerly of the Education department of S. T. C. about Missouri college. He and Miss Tessie Degan, a former commerce instructor here, recommended S. T. C. very highly.

Sidney Abbott, Crawford, Neb., attends Maryville State Teachers College in preference to others for two reasons. First, ex-service men do not pay tuition in Missouri Colleges, and second, because he was called to North west Missouri on business at the time of his enrollment last December.

Vera MacLeod of Tyrone, Oklahoma is attending S. T. C. because of the attractiveness and the beauty of the campus and surrounding country, in order to be with her grandmother, Mrs. Perrin of the college, and because she had formerly attended the Training School here and wished to return.

Miss Gladys Andrews and Miss Imogene Boyle are both attending S. T. C., because they can take college work and at the same time teach.

Miss Ruth Bass came to S. T. C. because she was especially interested in physical education for rural schools and she felt that in the Teachers' College she could teach physical education to young women going out into rural districts and thus create a great interest in that line of work.

Jessamine Flanagan of Independence, Missouri stated that she came to this school because the courses offered advantages, and because the district superintendent where she taught, recommended the faculty as being the highest type in Northwest Missouri.

Gordon Fowler of Guyman, Oklahoma came to Maryville because a number of his teachers had been graduates of S. T. C., and because he had heard so much about the school.

Seven of these students stated that they had come to S. T. C., because it was the best school near their homes. Several others came to school here because they liked the town of Maryville.

A list of out-of-state and out-of-district students follows:

Faculty Elected to M. S. T. A. Offices

At the M. S. T. A. held in Kansas City, November 13-15, several of the S. T. C. faculty members were elected to offices and placed on committees for the coming year's work.

Miss Dykes was re-elected treasurer of the Missouri Council of Teachers of English. Miss Painter was elected secretary of the same organization.

Miss DeLuca was elected secretary-treasurer of the Fine Arts Section.

President Lamkin remains on the executive committee for the coming year.

The revising of the state course of study for the junior and senior high schools is one of the important problems taken up by the association.

Miss Winn will remain on the English committee for revising the English course of study. Mr. Cooper and Mr. Stanfield will remain on the agriculture committee. Mr. Foster will continue to work on the committee, making a new course of study for European and World History. Mr. Gardner will continue to work on the music committee.

Miss DeLuca was placed on the committee for the fine arts bibliography. Miss Manley was appointed on a Physical Education Program committee.

S. T. C. SERVES 1548 DURING FALL TERM

During the fall quarter, 1548 students have been brought in touch with the college. Of this group, 638 were enrolled as regular students in the college, 85 were enrolled in the conservatory of music, 125 were served by correspondence courses and about 700 were members of the various extension classes. The enrollment of the college has steadily increased since 1920, showing a continual growth also in the extension and correspondence courses.

President Lamkin stated a few days ago that he felt that the fall quarter had been a very successful one and that the student body had shown a real school spirit.

The program for the winter quarter has already been posted in order that the students may make their plans for their courses before leaving for the Thanksgiving vacation.

Dean Colbert asks that every student entering college for the first time send immediately for a blank on which to have his high school records certified. This is essential before receiving college credit. He further urges that each student take his difficulties to his class advisors. Freshmen should take their required subjects—science, language, etc.—during the Freshman year in order to avoid trouble later.

Five students who have been doing critic teaching at the Franklin ward building finished their work for the fall quarter last week.

Good results have been accomplished by the girls in this work. Opportunity for others to do similar work next quarter in grades one to 4B inclusive may be arranged for upon consultation with Miss Paxton, supervisor in charge.

Those who have finished their work this quarter and the grade with which they worked are: Hazel Gell, Nello Swinehart, Opal Orme First Grade; Neva Ross, Jean Powell, Second grade.

High School courses will be offered the winter quarter in the following subjects, if eight students are enrolled: Sewing, music, and shorthand. The first period will be left open for basketball practice for boys and girls.

The high school activity program last Thursday consisted of a series of tests in writing, spelling, and English. The students falling in these tests will be required to take courses in the subjects without credit.

A dinner party was given by some of the Residence Hall girls, November 14 for Jeanette Brock, Hazel Christwell, Rowena Hull and Augusta Quell who were former residents of the Residence Hall.

Mr. Gardner addressed the rural teachers of Grundy County on "Music Appreciation in Rural Schools" and gave a demonstration lesson, Saturday, November 15 at Trenton.

Floyd Lunsford, a former S. T. C. student and Lilla Haer, were married November 8, in St. Joseph. Mr. Lunsford is teaching music and history in the Cornish High School.

Miss Boyle spent the day in St. Joseph, last Thursday.

High School News Wanted by Courier

The Northwest Missouri State Teachers College represents every high school in Northwest Missouri. A high school section in the Green and White Courier which contains pertinent news items each week about different high schools is one means of bringing college and high school together. It is true that many high schools of this district have not been represented in this section. It is impossible for the staff of the Courier to collect news of every high school in this district, work hard as they can. Some of the high schools mail news stories about their schools each week; others send their high school papers.

The staff of the Courier wishes to suggest to the high school English teachers that they have their English students submit news articles, the best chosen by the teacher in charge, to be mailed not later than Monday of each week to the Green and White Courier, Maryville. Or possibly the high schools could organize a regular newspaper staff, providing one is not already organized. The important thing is to get your news in, make the Courier a more representative paper; and let your neighbors know what you are doing.

The news articles must be concise and interesting. Articles should be submitted that would interest a large number of readers. Since newspaper space is limited it may be impossible to print all that you mail us, but we shall endeavor to give each high school equal recognition.

Show your interest in this new adventure of ours by submitting stories for our next issue, which is printed December 8.

Jeanette Brock, a former S. T. C. student visited in Maryville with friends November 14-16. She is teaching the first grade at Lawson.

Mr. Loomis went to Columbia last week end to attend a final meeting of the staff of the State School Survey of which he is a member.

Julia Caldwell's mother and sister, Virginia of Trenton, spent the week-end, November 15 and 16 with her at the Residence Hall.

Lois Lawson and Mildred Kiser spent last Sunday in Barnard at a family reunion, held at the home of Mildred's aunt.

Mabel Houston, a former S. T. C. student, is teaching at Braddyville, Iowa.

The Pickering High School basketball team won the title of Northwest Missouri champions in the second annual outdoor tournament held by the State Teachers College when they defeated Rosendale 38 to 15.

The Pickering captain, Burkes, was the outstanding star of the game. McKee of Pickering and Finley of Rosendale played exceptionally good games.

The box score of the championship game follows:

In the first round Camden defeated Union Star 33-14; Coffey won over Sheridan 16-9. Easton lost to Pickering 54-11 and Kearney to Sampsel 19-9. Norborn forfeited to Grandview and Galt to New Hampton when they failed to appear. Rosendale, drew a bye.

In the second round Pickering defeated Grandview 45-5; New Hampton lost to Sampsel 35-19; and Camden won from Coffey 13-11. The hope was upset when Rosendale defeated the fast Maitland five, last year's state champions 20 to 2.

FACULTY MEMBER TELLS OF ENGLAND

Miss Winn of the College faculty addressed the combined girls literary societies of the Maryville High School the Zeta Sigma and the Victorian, Tuesday morning, November 17, on "English Schools." She told of the difference between English and American schools and described several famous English public schools.

"The English boys," said Miss Winn, "have practically twelve months of school since they have directions for vacation study." Students pay tuitions to attend such schools as Eaton, Winchester, Harrow, Rugby and Charterhouse, schools which Americans would regard as private but in England they are called public schools. The "Young gentleman," as they are called there, do not enjoy modern conveniences in their schools, since the buildings are nearly all of medieval construction.

The county council schools, so called because that body controls them, may be attended without the payment of tuition; these schools correspond to the American Public Schools.

A well known private school for girls in England is the Gads Hill School conducted in the house in which Dickens died. The library and the garden are kept as they were in Dickens lifetime.

Miss Winn also gave a brief description of several of the higher schools of England, Oxford, Cambridge and the University of London.

"Interesting State Affairs and Social Occasions Which I Attended in London" was the subject of Miss Winn's talk to the D. A. R. at their meeting Thursday, November 19, at the home of Mrs. W. O. Garrett.

Miss Winn described the following events: the Lord Mayor's show; Armistice Day Celebration; the funeral of A. Bonar Law, the former prime minister, who was buried at Westminster Abbey; the Byron Centenary Dinner at which Stanley Baldwin, the prime minister, was toastmaster and the Lord Bishop of Durham the principle speaker; the Annual Dinner of the American University Union, at which the Archbishop of York spoke.

In addition, Miss Winn discussed some famous people with whom she came in contact in England as Bernard Shaw; John Galsworthy; Hugh Walpole, St. John Ervine, John Drinkwater, Sir Phillip Gibbs, Sheila Kay Smith; Rose Macaulay, Alfred Noyes, and Walter de la Mare.

Mr. C. E. Wells of the college library went to Hardin, Missouri Tuesday to classify their high school library.

Willotta Todd will spend her vacation at her home in Trenton and will have as her guest Irene Goff of Cameron.

Katherine Hallie spent the week end November 15 and 16 with Alice Parks at her home in Conway, Iowa.

Wilda Wilsie, a former S. T. C. student, is teaching at Braddyville, Iowa.

Mervin McNulty spent the week-end November 15-16 in Omaha.

Christine Goff will spend her vacation in St. Joseph.

TARKS LOSE ANNUAL FRAY

The Ferocious Bearcats Humbled the Presbyterian Preschers By A Count of 7 to 0—Tarks Used Aerial Attack in Effort to Win.

The Bearcats and Tarks fought their annual battle last Friday with the Bearcats coming out the winner by a 7 to 0 score. With a hard wind blowing and a large crowd to witness the fray, the Bearcats took the field just after 2:30 and fought off the eternal jinx of the Tarkio eleven.

Maryville kicked off to the Tarks over the goal line and it was Tarkio's ball on their own 20 yard line. Maryville held and Tarkio was forced to kick. Maryville made first down and Eads tried a place kick which went wide. Again Tarkio was held and forced to punt. Again Eads tried a place kick and failed. Tarkio then punted to mid field. Maryville took the ball this time determined to score and on line plunges Eads, Masters and Willoughby advanced the ball to the 1 yard line and Eads went over for a touchdown and kicked goal. Score 7-0.

During the rest of the quarter the ball was in mid field.

The second quarter the Bearcats faced the wind but it seemed to not hinder their play, they took the ball up the field and with in 10 yards of goal then lost the ball on a fumble. Tarkio started to punt but fumbled, Ogden fell on the ball on 2 yard line. This was a chance to score but Maryville was penalized 15 yards for holding. They again came to within a few yards and fumbled which cost them their chance to score. Tarkio punted 20 yards and just before the half ended Eads kick was headed straight for goal but the wind blew it down 5 yards short. The half ended Bearcats 7; Tarkio 0.

During the third quarter the Tarks out fought the Bearcats and it looked as though they would score. One pass was about completed back of the goal but was fumbled. This brought Maryville to their feet and they were not outplayed the rest of the game.

The Tarks were still behind in the fourth quarter and resorted to the aerial game but few passes were completed. Masters intercepted two and Bush one. The rest of the game the Bearcats played the ball within Tarkio's own 20 yard line but could not get across for another tally.

Thanksgiving day was observed at the last Y. W. C. A. meeting of the quarter last Tuesday morning. Rev. S. P. Allison delivered a forceful Thanksgiving message, explaining the meaning of the day. Speaking from the text "What shall I render unto God for all His benefits toward me," Rev. Allison told of four great things in life to be thankful for. These things are: forgiveness, deliverance, fellowship and partnership or stewardship.

Another feature of the program was a trio "O my Soul, Bless Thou Jehovah," by Lorene Maxey, Elizabeth Mills and Zelma Neal.

Scripture reading of the hundred third Psalm was given by Florence Polard.

Announcement was made by the president that opportunity to enroll in the Y. W. C. A. would be given one day early in the fall quarter. Whether you become a member or not, you are welcome at each meeting.

COLLEGE OATH

"We will never bring disgrace to this college by any act of cowardice or dishonesty. We will fight for the ideals and sacred things of the college. We will serve and obey the college laws, and do our best to inspire like respect and reverence in others. We will strive unceasingly to quicken the students' sense of duty. We will transmit this college to those who come after us greater, better, and more beautiful than it was transmitted to us."

THE CUB'S CONFESSION

The cub crossed the last "T" and made his last cross the reporter's indication of a period. Leaning back in his chair, he perched his feet on the table, and made the mental notation, "That's the end." It hadn't been so bad. After all, it had been a lot of fun to approach a faculty member with that tell-me-all-you-know look. Then there had been a great deal of self-satisfaction in knowing all the news that would appear in the Courier even before the paper was in print. Journalism class had been a mighty fine example of true democracy. There every one had helped the other fellow shoulder his burden. If one had any self-conceit before entering the class, he certainly lost it after the first week. For the instructor had not been at all partial in pointing out mistakes. No, it had not been what one could call a snap course—but somehow it had taken with the cub.

And then, "say, that's not the end. I am going to sign for a second quarter of journalism. Somehow when a fellow gets printer's ink on his hand it stays, and the more there is the better he likes it. All I am saying is, 'That if you want a real course, students, sign up for journalism.'"

PHILOMATHEAN NEWS

"Work is a safety guard to every individual," said Dr. Keller in an address before the Philomathean Literary Society, Thursday, November 21. "The future use of leisure will be in the service of our fellow men," continued Dr. Keller. "We have the Spirit of Criticism today which we have never had before. What do you get out of your literary society depends upon your viewpoint."

"Expression strengthens impression. The business of society is to fit men and women to do things when they haven't anything to do. The only remedy seems to be 'Give yourself to your fellow men.'"

A song by the Philomathean trio—Elizabeth Mills, Lorraine Maxey and Zelma Neal completed the program.

Mae Sturm, Louise Cooper and Wavle McKee signed the roll.

Thanksgiving—Thursday Next!

This Store will be closed on Thanksgiving Day as usual.

It is fitting that a day should be set aside each year to give thanks to the Omnipotent for the blessings received.

It is a time-honored custom, observed on the last Thursday in November since 1863 when President Lincoln so declared by proclamation.

It was first observed in America when in 1621 the Plymouth Pilgrims devoted the day to an acknowledgment of their first harvest.

MARYVILLE IN DEBATE LEAGUE

Will Contest With Kirksville and Springfield for 1925 Debate Schedule—A Four Year Schedule Has Been Made by the State Schools.

The Maryville State Teachers College debate team will engage with Kirksville and Springfield this year. The schedule for the next four years contests in the M. T. A. A. Circle has just been received by Harry Miller, instructor in public speaking and the coach of the S. T. C. team.

According to the schedule the leading team, after the four year schedule has been completed will receive the cup which is offered.

The question for debate this year will be chosen from a list of ten submitted by the coaches of the teams at the various State Teachers Colleges. The following is the list of questions submitted for this year's contest and from which the one issue will be chosen:

Kirksville submitted: "Resolved, That the United States Should Recognize Russia;" and "Resolved, That There Should be a Department of Education Established whose Head Shall be a Member of the President's Cabinet."

Cape Girardeau submitted: "Resolved, That Congress Should Have the Veto Power Over the Supreme Court When Decisions are Rendered by a Three-fourths Vote of the Supreme Court;" and "Resolved, That Congress Should Pass an Act which Would Outlaw War."

Springfield submitted: "Resolved, That the Unimpaired Legislative Body Should Supersede the Bicameral Legislative body at the state legislatures of the various states;" and "Resolved, That Missouri should adopt a minimum wage scale applicable to women workers." (Constitutionality conceded).

Warrensburg submitted: "Resolved, That the United States should favor the Japanese exclusion act;" and "Resolved, That a two-thirds vote of Congress should have the power to veto and act of the Supreme Court which would declare an act of Congress unconstitutional."

Maryville submitted: "Resolved, That the United States should enter the Permanent Court of International Justice;" and "Resolved, That the present immigration law is justifiable."

The debate schedule for the various schools is as follows:

In 1925—Cape Girardeau debates the affirmative at Springfield against Kirksville. Kirksville debates the affirmative against Maryville at Warrensburg. Maryville debates the affirmative with Springfield at Cape Girardeau. Springfield debates affirmative with Warrensburg at Kirksville. Warrensburg debates the affirmative against Cape Girardeau at Maryville.

In 1926—Cape Girardeau debates the affirmative with Maryville at Kirksville. Kirksville debates the affirmative with Springfield at Maryville. Maryville debates the affirmative with Warrensburg at Springfield. Springfield debates the affirmative with Cape Girardeau at Warrensburg. Warrensburg debates the affirmative with Kirksville at Cape Girardeau.

In 1927—Cape Girardeau debates the affirmative with Springfield at Warrensburg. Kirksville debates the affirmative with Warrensburg at Cape Girardeau. Maryville debates the affirmative with Cape Girardeau at Kirksville. Springfield debates the affirmative with Kirksville at Maryville. Warrensburg debates the affirmative with Maryville at Springfield.

In 1928—Cape Girardeau debates the affirmative with Warrensburg at Maryville. Kirksville debates the affirmative with Cape Girardeau at Springfield. Maryville debates the affirmative with Kirksville at Warrensburg. Springfield debates the affirmative with Maryville at Cape Girardeau. Warrensburg debates the affirmative with Springfield at Kirksville.

The work in choosing the S. T. C. representatives in debate will start at the beginning of the winter quarter, according to Mr. Miller. Maryville will also be represented in the oratorical and extemporaneous contest which will be held at Springfield. The subject in the Springfield extemporaneous contest is: "The Constitution."

COUS' OUT TASTE OF PRINTER'S INK

In order to make the course in journalism practical and useful to members of the class who will be in charge of school papers next year, Miss Beatrice Winn, instructor of journalism, had the Green and White Courier sub visit the Democrat Forum office Sunday.

The students watched the printers at work and also gained valuable information about the methods used in printing the paper. The linotype machine was explained to the class and the methods of composition and head setting were also demonstrated.

The entire class of twenty-six members met at the printing office at 8:15 o'clock.

The foreman of the job shop remarked after the class had that with the addition of a smudge of printer's ink and sleeves rolled up, the twenty-six students would all have passed for experienced members of the printing profession.

CAGE SEASON WILL START DURING WINTER

First call for basketball will be announced at the beginning of the winter semester by Coach H. Frank Lawrence. Captain "Abie" Bloomfield together with Peoples, Aldrich will be the mainstays of the Bearcat cage team.

Last year the Bearcats finished high in the conference standing and placed Ellis on the All-Star M. T. A. A. team. Peoples and Kirkby were given berths of the second All-Star team. It is not known at this time whether Ellis will return to school this winter or not.

Coach Lawrence will be assisted by Paul Jones in the work of developing the Bearcat Basketball team. A Cub team will also be picked to represent the school in curtain-raiser games played on the Maryville court.

Code of Ethics adopted by the M. T. A. A. in 1921:

1. We hold that the profession of teaching stands for ideals, service, and leadership. Any teacher's position is more than a work of personal remuneration.

2. We believe that the highest obligation of every member of the teaching profession is due to those who are under the teachers' professional care.

3. We insist that every teacher should be a progressive student of education and should regard teaching as a profession and a career. "The one year" teacher is not to be commended—that is, the "I am going to teach just one so it does not matter whether I succeed or fail" type.

4. We hold that teachers in age and conversation should govern themselves: that the profession be given the confidence of the public.

5. We regard the schools as a democracy in which there is co-operation in the management of the schools on the part of the school board, superintendent, principal, supervisor, and teacher. The superintendent should be recognized as the professional leader. Each teacher should have the opportunity to assist in solving professional problems. When a plan is decided upon it should be given the loyal support of all.

6. We recommend "equal salaries" for equal service to all teachers of equivalent training, experience and success.

7. To attain the maximum efficiency to enable the teacher to live upon a scale befitting his place in society, to permit the necessary expenditures for professional improvement, and to make proper provisions for those dependent upon him, and for himself in his old age.

8. We believe that a teacher should take no steps toward a specific position until he knows the position is vacant.

9. We hold that it is unprofessional for a teacher to violate a contract. Unless the consent of the school board is obtained releasing the obligation the contract should be fulfilled.

10. We believe that every teacher should loyally support the state-wide movement to secure a new constitution for Missouri and that every effort be put forth to secure constitutional provisions for the pensioning of teachers who have given years of faithful service to the cause of education.

11. We hold that no teacher should apply for, or accept a position, the former occupant of which has been dismissed without a just cause.

12. Finally we hold that every progressive teacher should not only be a member of his community organization, district and state associations, but also of the National Educational Association. This fellowship tends to encourage growth and makes for that cooperation and understanding which characterize teaching as a profession.

The Bible Class Goes to Barnard

The Stroller

By ???

When the instructor selected another member of the class to go to Kansas City to the Teachers' Meeting as special correspondent for the Courier, and told the Stroller to stay at home to help run the college, he immediately went out and bribed several of the faculty to bring back any nefarious doings of other faculty members to him. One tale he would never have believed if everyone of his spies had not insisted upon it, was that Dr. Keller not only went to the big party, but that he even took part in the dancing. Oh! what a fall was that; or was it an ascent?

The Stroller would not have been at all surprised if the report had concerned Mr. Wilson but his lady evidently preferred the Orpheum.

The Stroller advises the machine to take English if they need any more instruction in lobbying as he understands that our department walked off with half the offices in one state organization. While Miss Bowman did not get one of the offices, the Stroller has evidence—just ask her how she got across the streets after dark.

He might tell some things on President Lamkin too, but will spare him the time.

About eight o'clock last Monday morning, as the Stroller was walking down Buchanan street, he saw a Buick car coming toward him at a reckless speed. The Stroller stopped, because he guessed from the "maneuvers" that the car was going to stop somewhere in the neighborhood—and it did. Before the wheels had scarcely stopped, Miss DeLuce got out. The Stroller was near enough to hear her singing:

"The ZR-3
Hasn't much on me,
For since breakfast,
I've driven from Liberty."

Harry Nelson has discovered a new kind of animal. If anyone else catches a glimpse of it, the Stroller would appreciate a full description. "We often read tales," said Mr. Leeson in Biology class, "of how the giraffe got its long neck, and—all right, Mr. Nelson." "And," supplemented Harry, "how the camel got its trunk."

The Stroller certainly could appreciate Miss Painter's point of view when she told her English class that the English department was worried about the English students of the college; having already heard this recitation:

Miss Painter: "How would you conjugate the verb in this sentence? I have a gold mine."

Member of the class:
"I have a gold mine.
Thou hast a gold thine,
He has a gold his'n
We have a gold our'n
You have a gold your'n
They have a gold their'n."

The Stroller was informed a week ago Wednesday that "Doc" Pierpoint sings "silent," a new part (and voice quality too) in the mixed octette. At the assembly he stood with head bowed and from the rear of the auditorium it looked as though he might be singing because his lips seemed to be quivering in rhythm. However, the Stroller was told that "Doc's" official position in the octette is to act as a music rack for "Rusty" Allen in order that "Rusty" might articulate more profusely the notes that were supposed to be "Doc's."

The Stroller overheard Mr. Hake assign the following Physics lesson: "Tomorrow start with lightning and go to thunder." Would Methods and Principles justify such an assignment? A certain young man at the college called the Justice of Peace several days ago and said, "I have the ring and the preacher, but what in the world shall I do next?"

The Stroller concludes his last remarks for the fall quarter with these appropriate lines:

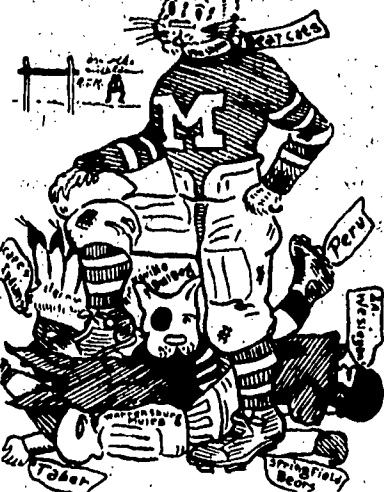

They sat together,
Worked together,
All semester long
Played together,
Strolled together,
Happy as a song.
THEN—
Crammed together,
Flunked together,
Wondered what was wrong.

The Foods Class at the Washington School, which Lena Johnson has taught this quarter, will serve a luncheon Tuesday, November 25. Besides the twenty-two members of the class, invitations will be issued to Miss Smith, Miss Teagarden, Miss Busby, and Merle Ford. The menu will be:

Fruit Cocktail
Potatoes in half-shell
Green Beans
Hot home-made rolls
Butter.
Cabbage Salad
Caramel Junket.

The campaign to obtain $300,000 for the University of Missouri Memorial union and stadium has reached $175,000. Of this amount, $24,000 has been subscribed by townspeople, and the remainder has been raised by students. It was expected that the goal of $300,000 would have been reached by October 31.

OPEN FORUM HOW DO WE TRIM THEM THIS YEAR?

The 1924 grid season is now football history. The achievements of the 1924 griders have surpassed those of former years. We wonder, why? In endeavoring to answer, meditation is not particularly necessary, provided you have watched the Bearcats practice with real determination each evening. There has been a friendly and co-operative spirit among the players, which is absolutely essential for a successful team. When a team is fighting among themselves, they usually are unable to fight an opponent.

Another reason why the season was so successful: Coach "Shorty" Lawrence plus Coach "Pete" Jones equals a shifty backfield and a strong forward wall. When you get this combination you have a football team. "Shorty" and "Pete" worked like a horse and wagon together. The former had charge of the backfield, while the latter developed a formidable line. Our Bearcats coaches worked diligently and strove to bring the championship to S. T. C.

The team and coaches have been accounted for, but what about the student body? The students of S. T. C. have given the Bearcats their support throughout the entire season. Plenty of enthusiasm was uncorked at several pep meetings; classes were disturbed by yells between classes before games, and prayers were probably offered by some loyal students. A victory was just as sweet to the student body as it was to the team, because a victory meant among other joys a show rush. We certainly enjoyed those free shows and we offer a thousand thanks to the Empire and Electric theaters. The management of these two theaters may look forward to entertaining us again when basket ball season begins.

The S. T. C. student body is looking forward to a championship basketball team. You see we thought it would be a good plan to inform the coaches early as to our wants, so they will satisfy us with the State "Crown."

We, the students of the North West Missouri State Teachers' College, do solemnly swear and affirm that we think term papers, tests, reviews, and any like check-ups are K-O, and we are heartily in favor of the same. But we do not like for our dear teachers to assign us 30 and 40 page term papers the last week of school to be handed in before the end of the term. So we request that said teachers will please take notice and govern themselves accordingly. So help us.....

THE STUDENTS.

Isn't it a "grand and glorious" feeling to know that your efforts are really appreciated? As a prelude, let it be known that the Courier travels to distant schools and colleges. An English teacher of a Virginia College wrote the following praise of the Green and White, in a letter to Miss Winn:

"Your paper is the newest one that comes to us and is remarkably free from errors for a weekly publication by students."

The next meeting of the World Federation of Education Associations will be held in Edinburgh, Scotland, beginning July 26, 1925. Some of the foremost statesmen of Europe will take part in the program. A general invitation is being extended to all nations to participate in the convention for several nations are in need of help in perfecting their national organizations.

The World Conference held its first session July, 1923, in San Francisco. As a result of this conference Japan has set aside one million yen for the purpose of wiping out illiteracy in Japan in ten years. China has adopted a policy with the slogan, "China a literate nation in one generation." Honduras is working on the same problem to be accomplished in five years. Mexico has taught 200,000 to read in the last two years.

The American Express Company has arranged to send a special steamer, with a round trip rate of from $165 to $275.

Information about the convention may be had from Dr. Augustus O. Thomas, office of the Commissioner of Education, Augusta, Maine.

Eyesight of school children is neglected according to a report of Eyesight Conservation Council of America, which states that only 4,237,702 of the 24,000,000 school children of the U. S. received an eye test in 1923. City school children are receiving more attention than rural school children.

Dr. David Snedder of Columbia University made the statement that five per cent of America's $70,000,000 work gain their training by the apprenticeship method, five per cent by the vocational school method, and 90 per cent by the pickup method. This "pickup" method, or university of hard knocks, kills dozens for every one that it brings into vocational proficiency. America is realizing that this method is expensive and inefficient.

The cash value of a college education is $72,000, according to Dean Everett W. Lord of the Boston University College of Business Administration. He places the cash value of a high school education at $33,000.

Dean Lord estimates the average income of the untrained man as $1200; of the high school graduate as $2200; and of the college graduate as $6000. He also estimates that the untrained man drops toward dependence at the age of 50 while the college man reaches his maximum earning capacity at the age of 60.

There is a wide diversity in the professional requirements for teachers in the U. S. Different conditions in the various states is the cause. The N. E. A. has set four years of training beyond the four years of high school training as a standard for every American teacher. Two years of training as a standard for every American teacher. Two years of training above the high school would be realized within the next few years.

The teaching of vocational agriculture in Missouri high schools increased from three in 1917 to eighty-five this year according to statistics compiled in the School of Agriculture of the University of Missouri. The purpose of the courses is to have the boys return to the farm, after obtaining an education which will fit him for rural citizenship, while the home projects will enable him to earn money while attending school.

Juvenile stock raisers and feeders of the Central West received special attention from greater K. C. during American Royal week, November 15-22. The K. C. Chamber of Commerce, the K. C. Live Stock exchange, and the K. C. Stock Yards joined to give the boys and girls of the pig, calf, lamb and poultry clubs a good time, and to do all in their power to further the interest that has been aroused in better live production by the boys and girls on the farms.

One proof that the teaching profession is steadily growing is the fact that 200,000 persons attended summer schools during 1924.

Lois Hobson spent the week-end, November 16-16 at her home near Sheridan.
